

Mesotherapy - Creating a New You

Well, it's finally happened! The New Mexico chiropractic board has approved the use of homeopathic injectables for certified doctors to use with their patients. This means we can now offer Mesotherapy, making available to our patients completely natural aesthetic treatments.

So what are Mesotherapy and aesthetics? Aesthetic (or esthetic) medicine refers to procedures that promote a more youthful or healthy appearance by correcting unsightly problems such as wrinkles, cellulite, sagging skin, and fatty deposits (belly fat or "love handles") on the waist line. Plastic surgeons treat these conditions by performing face lifts, tummy tucks, liposuction or other surgical procedures. The problem is that these procedures are expensive and have significant risks. The results of surgery may look unnatural or be uncomfortable. Mesotherapy, on the other hand, is extremely safe, costs only a fraction of what surgical procedures run, and the end result is a more natural, vibrant appearance.

Mesotherapy was developed in 1952 by French physician, Dr. Michel Pistor, MD. With Mesotherapy, medication is injected into the mesoderm, the layer of fat and connective tissue just under the skin. Over the past 50+ years, over 15,000 physicians world-wide have used Mesotherapy on a daily basis for a variety of purposes, including overall weight loss, spot weight reduction, cellulite reduction, hair loss treatment, scar revision and wrinkle elimination. Mesotherapy is also used to correct unevenness, lumps, or divots that develop after liposuction.

In 1987, the French Academy of Medicine recognized Mesotherapy as part of traditional medicine. The International Society of Mesotherapy encompasses 14 countries throughout Europe and South America. These treatments have gained great popularity in these areas.

Professor Leonello Milani, M.D., PhD, an Italian physician and researcher, developed what has become known as Physiological Regulating Medicine, or PRM. PRM uses homeopathics and other natural biological substances to stimulate a sick organism back to its original healthy physiological condition at a molecular level. PRM takes homeopathic therapies to a whole new level, applying them to the treatment of many health problems as well as to the area of Aesthetic Medicine.

These unique homeopathic combinations are manufactured by Guna, Inc. Guna is the largest homeopathic pharmaceutical manufacture in Italy and they, along with Dr. Milani, have developed some truly amazing and unique products that can turn back the clock on any aging body. And they do this with minimal risk and expense. For example, a liposuction procedure on stubborn belly fat will run from $4000 up to $8000 dollars. Mesotherapy costs a fraction of this amount without the side effects or possible poor outcomes of surgery.
